if salaried employees were working overtime for "time and a half" due to Triview not being able to fill a third of the summer seasonal employee positions. "We are not just here to express our dismay with it, but we want to be a help if we can," he said.

Fisher thanked Liebowitz for his comments. Some of Fisher's comments were:

- "We're not going to try and real time this discussion tonight. It's a chance for you to give us input."
- "There are transition windows where things hand over from developers before they become our responsibility."
- "We have seasonal workers every year as it relates to landscaping and green space."

- "In general, I think we have a good handle and we have worked out some issues with regards to the town that are just really accounting related. There is not a shortchanging of tax dollars going on."
- "Landscaping and maintenance are ongoing concerns of ours, they always have been. It's good to hear from residents as to what they feel is working and what they feel is not, so keep that input coming."
- "Your input is received, and we will discuss it with staff and try and get some clarification for you."
- "The preference is for you to start
