

the Colorado Department of Education and keeping a comprehensive list of funding needs.

Superintendent's update

Borman reported on the activities of the district during the Black Forest Fire. He commended Wangeman and the maintenance staff for their quick action to set up a Red Cross shelter at Palmer Ridge High School, adding that, once the New Life Church shelter closed due to smoke, the Palmer Ridge shelter was quite full, including pets as well as people.

Borman also said that last year's experiences during the Waldo Canyon Fire aided in determining how to remove files from Kilmer Elementary during its time under evacuation, and from Bear Creek Elementary and Lewis-Palmer High School during their pre-evacuation status. Borman said that the school district has developed a close relationship with Tri-Lakes Cares during such times.

Report on Exceptional Student Services

Director of Exceptional Student Services Mary Anne Fleury reported on a recent survey of her department's staff. Half of the staff responded to the survey and reported that they are generally satisfied with funding for conference attendance, feel that special education students are accepted by the general education staff and students, and that parents are generally respectful and
