less the entire body votes to approve the He said that there are two types of entity in the district, those who guide and those who do. The board is a governing body created by state statute. The board collectively votes on policy in public meetings.

The only “doer” in the system is the superintendent, who implements the policies approved by the board. The superintendent hires, fires, and supervises employees of the district. The superintendent is the only individual directly hired and supervised by the board.

Mann used the example of the district opting out of participation in the state’s Healthy Kids Survey. With knowledge of the board’s concern about data privacy, the superintendent looked at the survey, consulted state Rep. Paul Lundeen regarding the invasive nature of the survey, and decided not to participate.

Magerko, Secretary Sherri Hawkins, and Director Matthew Clawson said they had attended various Back to School Nights and were impressed with the excitement among the teachers and their children.

Clawson also commented that, when he learned of the secure perimeter action at Prairie Winds in August, he refrained from going to the school, knowing how thoroughly staff was trained in dealing with such situations.

Magerko reported that he, Assistant Superintendent Cheryl Wangeman, and
