Legacy Sertoma supports non-profits

TreeCycle, Jan. 10

Tri-Lakes Land Use Committee, Jan. 10

Operation “Deep Freeze 16”, Jan. 9

Human Trafficking Series started, Jan. 31

Above: In spite of a cold and snowy Sunday morning, Benet Hill welcomed over 40 participants to its Human Trafficking Series at the monastery. Fred and Erika Reichert, shown here, listened to Betty Edward, founder of the Human Trafficking Task Force for Southern Colorado, who presented the first programs, laying the foundation for three consecutive presentations on Feb. 8, 15, and 22. The presentations will be from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The series is free and open to the public. Detectives from the Colorado Springs Police Department will present information on what law enforcement is doing to eradicate this crime in our community. On Feb. 15, a survivor's story will be presented. Photo courtesy of Sister Rose Ann Barmann.
